

SUSTAINABILITY EDUCATORS

Sea to Sky Outdoor School employs quality outdoor environmental educators.

Sea to Sky Educators have the following characteristics, experience and qualifications:

- Teaching experience at both elementary and high school levels
- Skilled in group facilitation and dynamics
- Excellent communication skills and proven team player
- High level of ecological literacy
- Models a “less is more” philosophy
- Indefatigable, all weather educator with backcountry skills
- Wilderness first aid training
- Employs musical and theatrical talents in teaching
- Is resourceful and adaptable when confronted with change
- High levels of positive energy with a good sense of humour
- Employs jedi mind tricks as needed

Key responsibilities of Sea to Sky staff:

- Curriculum-based teaching to students from grade 3 – 12 in an outdoor “classroom”
- Seasonal work in an island setting for 3 to 5 day programs
- Contributions to program design and development
- Professionalism and ambassador of Sea to Sky Outdoor School

If you are interested in employment opportunities please join us as a volunteer for an island program and email your resumé to:

Tim Turner and Wendy Miller,
Directors: Sea to Sky Outdoor School

timturner@seatosky.bc.ca

